

I am writing to express my opinion on the issue of wireless phone number portability. This is a key for competition and for consumers to enjoy the benefits of better offerings at lower costs. The companies are using the excuse of "increased" costs. They really want to make it harder for a person to change firms. This is reminiscent of the reserve clause in baseball which was struck down and now you have free agency. For competition in the wireless phone industry, and to benefit the consumer and not make it easy for the company, we need wireless free agency with phone number portability. Thank you.
